Edward J. Harpham
Dean of the Honors College and Professor of Political Science
harpham@utdallas.edu

Dr. Harpham is the Dean of the Hobson Wildenthal Honors College and Associate Provost at The University of Texas at Dallas, overseeing its many activities. A Professor of Political Science, Dr. Harpham teaches courses in political theory, American government, Texas politics, and public policy. With Wendy Harpham M.D., he has developed a sequence of honors readings tutorials that explore the history, philosophy, and practice of medicine. Dr. Harpham is a previous winner of the Chancellor Council's Outstanding Teaching Award. He sits on the Board of the Archer Center in Washington D.C. and serves as the faculty advisor for the Archer Internship Program. He has published extensively on the role that economic ideas play in modern political thought and their impact upon public policy. His more recent work focuses on the role that emotions and passions play in modern political thought. He is the co-author with Anthony Champagne of the bestselling textbook Governing Texas. Dr. Harpham also works closely with the McDermott Scholars Program. Visit Dr. Harpham's homepage to learn more about his research and courses.

Ph.D., Cornell University

Douglas C. Dow
Associate Dean of the Hobson Wildenthal Honors College and Clinical Professor of Government and Politics
dougdow@utdallas.edu

Douglas C. Dow is the Associate Director of Collegium V, and Clinical Professor of Government and Politics. He also heads the Office of Distinguished Scholarships, recruiting and advising students applying for nationally competitive scholarships and fellowships. Dr. Dow teaches courses in political theory, American politics and Texas government, Constitutional law and history, ethics and technology, and film and politics. His research interests include the history of political thought and language, human rights, and jurisprudence.

Ph.D., The Johns Hopkins University

Ravi Prakash
Professor of Computer Science
ravip@utdallas.edu

Ravi Prakash is a professor of computer science at the University of Texas at Dallas. His areas of teaching and research include wireless and sensor networking, mobile computing and distributed computing. He is the recipient of multiple research grants from federal agencies and industry including the NSF CAREER award and the NSF Major Research Infrastructure award. He has served the technical and university community in his roles as an editor of the Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE) Transactions on Mobile Computing, as the President of the IEEE Dallas section, and as a member of the UT Dallas Faculty Senate and Academic Council.

Ph.D., The Ohio State University

Eva LaDow
Senior Lecturer in Neuroscience
esl130130@utdallas.edu

Eva LaDow is a Senior Lecturer in Neuroscience with Collegium V. She did her Ph.D. at the University of California San Francisco, focusing on neuronal signal transduction and synaptic plasticity. During her postdoctoral fellowship at the Gladstone Institutes of Neurological Disease, she performed a high content analysis drug-repurposing screen to find potential therapies for ALS. Dr. LaDow teaches courses related to neurobiology, including Cellular Neuroscience and Neuropharmacology.

Ph.D., University of California, San Francisco

Christina Thompson
Senior Lecturer in Chemistry

https://provost.utdallas.edu/home/honors/staff//makepdf Christina Thompson is a lecturer in Chemistry with Collegium V. She obtained her PhD in chemistry from the University of Illinois at Urbana Champaign, where she focused on synthetic organic chemistry and completed the first total synthesis of the natural product Dykellic Acid. From there she went to work at Abbott Laboratories, designing and developing new drugs for Schizophrenia. Dr. Thompson teaches introductory organic chemistry lecture and lab, and works in Dr. Smaldone's research lab developing new materials for energy storage. She is also part of a team at UT Dallas developing Polycraft World, a mod for the popular game Minecraft, designed to teach polymer chemistry and energy science through enhanced game play.

Ph.D., University of Illinois Urbana-Champaign

Blythe Torres
Director of the Terry Scholars Program
blythe.torres@utdallas.edu

Blythe Torres is the Director of the Terry Scholars Program and has worked in higher education for 20 years. Prior to her arrival at UT Dallas, she was the Manager of the Education Division in Psychiatry at UT Southwestern Medical Center. She accepted the position as Director of the Academic Excellence Scholarship (AES) Program at UT Dallas in 2004 and soon thereafter was asked to oversee the implementation of the Terry Scholars Program while continuing her role as Director of AES. In 2010, she transitioned full-time into her current position. She is a member of two national scholarship organizations and has served on several committees within the National Scholarship Providers Association (NSPA). She has been invited to speak at the NSPA national conference on multiple occasions, lecturing on topics such as the management of large-scale merit-based scholarship programs and the unique enhancements of the UT Dallas Terry Scholars Program.

M.A., New Mexico State University
Michael Seeligson
Assistant Provost
michael.seeligson@utdallas.edu
Assistant Provost and a graduate of the University and oversees the National Merit Scholars Program and the Prodigy Scholars Program, advises the UT Dallas Model United Nations team, and serves as a McDermott mentor. He teaches principles of macroeconomics and microeconomics in the honors program. He received his J.D. from the University of Virginia School of Law and is pursuing a Ph.D. in Economics. His research agenda joins law and economics to study contracts and corporate governance. A McDermott Scholar, Mr. Seeligson graduated from UT Dallas with a Degree in Mathematics and continues to be active in the UT Dallas alumni community.

B.S., The University of Texas at Dallas
J.D., The University of Virginia School of Law

Valerie Brunell
Assistant Dean
vbrunell@utdallas.edu
Valerie Brunell is the Assistant Dean and the administrative officer for the Hobson Wildenthal Honors College. She has worked in higher education for over 10 years. She works closely with Dr. Harpham on the programming, planning and financial operations of the honors college and its various programs including advising Collegium V students and the UT Dallas Model UN team. She is a graduate of University of California at Irvine where she received her Master's degree in Chemistry. She is a former academic advisor for Natural Science and Mathematics at UT Dallas, earning the Advisor of the Year Award in 2010. She also advised students in the Psychology and Psychobiology Department at Binghamton University.

M.S., University of California, Irvine

Sheila Kelly
Assistant Director
Sheila Kelly is the Assistant Director for the Collegium V, Honors Program. She is a graduate of Saint Mary’s College, Notre Dame, where she received her Bachelors in English Literature. She also holds a Master of Public Affairs from the University of Texas at Dallas and is the former Director of Student Affairs for a private French school. Her office is located in GC 2.216B. She can be reached at 972-883-4297.

M.P.A., The University of Texas at Dallas

Cassie Cure
Assistant Director of the Terry Scholars Program
cxc167530@utdallas.edu

Cassie Cure is the Assistant Director for the Terry Scholars Program. She is a graduate of Sam Houston State University where she received her Masters in Higher Education Administration. She was previously the Study Abroad Coordinator at Sam Houston State University and the Administrative Program Specialist for a business honors program at Texas Christian University. Her office is located in GC 2.216F. She can be reached at 972-883-4284.

M.A., Sam Houston State University

Wendi Kavanaugh
Assistant Director for the National Merit Scholars Program
wlk010100@utdallas.edu

Wendi Kavanaugh is the Assistant Director for the National Merit Scholars Program. She is a graduate of Texas A&M University - Commerce where she received a B.S. in Radio and Television. She has a M.A. in Humanities, Aesthetic Studies and an M.F.A. in Arts and Technology from the University of Texas at Dallas. She is the former Membership Outreach Manager for the Dallas Museum of Art. Her office is located in GC 2.212. She can be reached at 972-883-4285.

M.F.A., The University of Texas at Dallas
Patrick Muenks
Program Specialist
patrick.muenks@utdallas.edu

Patrick Muenks is a Program Specialist with the Hobson Wildenthal Honors College. He is a graduate of Drury University where he earned a Masters in Communication with an emphasis in Organizational Leadership and Change. He is the former Program Coordinator of the Honors Program at the University of Texas at Tyler. His office is located in GC 2.216G. Mr. Muenks can be reached at 972-883-6311.

M.A., Drury University

Tony A. Seagroves
Coach
tony.seagroves@utdallas.edu

Attorney Tony A. Seagroves coaches Mock Trial and Mediation. He is a graduate from Southern Methodist University Dedman School of Law and an alumni of The University of Texas at Dallas. He is licensed to practice law in both Federal and Texas state courts. His office is located in the Hobson Wildenthal Honors College--GC 2.216E. You may reach him by calling 972-883-6799 or by emailing tony.seagroves@utdallas.edu.

J.D., Southern Methodist University

Hannah Frank
Operations and Data Controller
hef042000@utdallas.edu

Hannah Frank is the Operations and Data Controller for the Hobson Wildenthal Honors College. She graduated as a McDermott Scholar from the University of Texas at Dallas in 2008 with a B.A. in Literary Studies and Art and Performance. Hannah completed two years of service with the Peace Corps in Ghana, followed by a year of service as an AmeriCorps NCCC Team Leader based in Vinton, Iowa. She has recently returned from three years as Technical Advisor and Data Manager to the South Sudan Guinea Worm Eradication Program, supported by The Carter Center.
Josiah Summerville
Accountant
josiah.summerville@utdallas.edu

Josiah Summerville is the Accountant for the Hobson Wildenthal Honors College. He is a graduate of the University of Texas at Tyler where he received his Bachelors of Business Administration in Accounting. During his undergraduate career he was a part of the Men’s Basketball team at UT-Tyler where he served as team captain his last two years and was a part-time employee for the university's Financial Services Office and Ingenuity Center. Josiah was previously a Budget and Reporting Analyst for Enrollment Management at The University of Texas at Tyler in Fall 2015. His office is located in GC 2.216C, and he can be reached at 972-883-3845.

B.B.A., The University of Texas at Tyler